The principal purpose of the Report for Florida Community Colleges is to convey information to interested persons about the system of community colleges in Florida. Sometimes referred to as the "Community College Fact Book," it is intended for use by those people interested in community college education in Florida.

The majority of the tables were prepared from the Community College Management Information System (CCMIS), a computer-based system which provides a capability to present information which would otherwise be unavailable or too costly. The tables present the information most frequently referenced and used by the State Board of Community Colleges and others. A great amount of additional statistical/financial data about Florida's community colleges is available on request.

It should be noted that prior to the 1981-82 reporting year, a full-time equivalent (FTE) student in the vocational area (postsecondary adult and supplemental) was defined as 810 instructional hours. That definition now requires 900 instructional hours. Furthermore, beginning in 1982-83, the Legislature for allocation and analysis purposes mandated that FTE reports reflect that a full-time equivalent (FTE) student in Advanced and Professional (university parallel) and Postsecondary Vocational programs be defined as 40 student-semester hours instead of 30. In addition, the Summer term is the first term in the reporting year. Table 3 reflects these definitions of FTE students enrollments for 1985-86. In order for one to compare FTE longitudinally, FTE tables utilizing these definitions have been included for the years 1981-82, 1982-83, 1983-84, 1984-85 and 1985-86. In contrast to Tables 3 - 6 where only fee-paying students are displayed, the printouts in Table 7 include all enrolled students.

STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE SYSTEM OF FLORIDA

Florida's community college system had its beginning in 1933 when Palm Beach Junior College was established as a public two-year college. From that date until 1947, when St. Petersburg Junior College changed its status from private to public, Palm Beach Junior College remained the only public two-year college in Florida. When the Florida Minimum Foundation Program was enacted in 1947, combined state and local support for community colleges became a reality. With this incentive, Pensacola Junior College was established in 1948 and Chipola Junior College, established in 1947 as a private institution, changed its status to become a public junior college.

The Legislature in 1955 established the Community College Council, whose report was published in 1957 under the title, "The Community Junior College in Florida's Future." This report, which was approved by the State Board of Education, contained recommendations for needed legal changes and a master plan for establishing a system of public community colleges in Florida which ultimately would provide post-high-school education within commuting distance of more that 99 percent of Florida's population. In the development and implementation of this plan, Florida became a national model for the orderly development of a statewide system of community colleges.

Consequently, the 1957 Legislature authorized creation of the Division of Community Colleges in the State Department of Education and appropriated funds for six new community colleges to begin implementation of the master plan. These were:

Gulf Coast Community College
Central Florida Community College
Daytona Beach Community College
Manatee Junior College
North Florida Junior College
St. Johns River Community College

With the opening of Pasco-Hernando Community College in 1972, the master plan had been implemented. Twenty-eight community colleges had been established to serve the citizens of the State of Florida by offering the first two years of a baccalaureate degree, vocational education, and adult continuing education. Furthermore, in order to bring instruction closer yet to students, more than 2,000 other locations, such as churches, public schools, and community centers are also used. In addition, the 28 colleges have established additional centers and campuses to better serve student needs.

To further insure the efficient and effective operation of the State Community College System, the Florida Legislature in 1979 established the State Community College Coordinating Board and in 1983 replaced that board with the State Board of Community Colleges. Since that time, the State Board of Community Colleges has earned the respect of the community college community by strongly preserving local control represented by local Boards of Trustees, while at the same time establishing systemwide policies and coordination. Indeed, the Florida System of Community Colleges has received national recognition because of this unusual balance between local control and State coordination and funding.

During the period of time described above, postsecondary education needs in Florida were changing. Identifiable changes include an increase in the mean age of students, changes in enrollment patterns, population growth, changes in population patterns, increased emphasis on vocational education, increased emphasis on economic development, and entry of women into the work force in unprecedented numbers. The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission (PEPC) was established in 1981 to provide overall guidance and direction for the improvement of postsecondary education in Florida. A new community college master plan was developed to become part of the broader plan developed by PEPC. The Master Plan for the Florida Community College System was published in September, 1983, addressing a number of concerns including emphasis on the improvement of quality, the trend toward increased part-time enrollments, minority needs, women's needs, and student financial aid needs. A new plan is now being developed to reflect current conditions.

The twenty-eight community colleges comprising the Florida system are listed on the following page along with the year each was established.
